Rubrics Global Fixed Income UCITS Fund (Class B EUR)

Fund commentary

The Class B EUR share returned +0.05% over the month. The Fund holds around 90% in developed-market government bonds, with 9% in credit and the remainder in cash. Its Treasury and Bund holdings cluster in the one to three-year and seven to ten-year parts of the curve. The weighted average duration held near 5.0 years, easing from 5.03 to 4.97 over the month. Curve-shape effects from the front-end-led rise in yields were the principal detractor over the month. Carry across the intermediate Treasury and Bund holdings and the contribution from the group credit allocation were the main positive contributors.

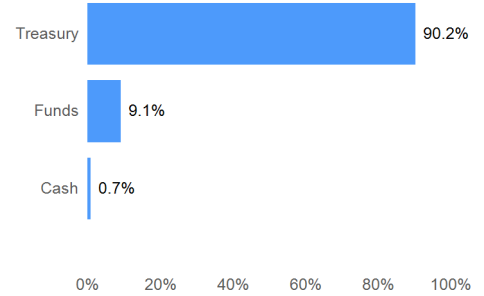

Market commentary

The war between Iran and the US-Israel coalition ran through a fourth month, and energy markets stayed at its mercy. Iranian forces have treated the Strait of Hormuz as closed since early March, the channel that carried close to a fifth of seaborne crude before the conflict, and the International Energy Agency has called the resulting loss the largest supply disruption in the history of the oil market. Fighting continued through most of May, with Iranian missiles striking Kuwait and drones sent toward the Strait in the final week. The shift came late in the month, when Washington and Tehran reached outline terms on a 60-day memorandum to extend a ceasefire, pending sign-off, and traders began to price a partial reopening of the waterway. Spot WTI tracked that arc. The contract held in a $98 to $112 band for most of May, reached its high near $112 on 18 May, then fell toward $98 in the closing week as ceasefire talk advanced, having ended April at $109. US data landed firm. April payrolls rose 115,000 and unemployment held at 4.3%. Headline CPI climbed 0.6% on the month and 3.8% over the year as the energy spike fed through, while core CPI rose 0.4% on the month and 2.7% over the year. Core PCE rose 0.2% on the month, leaving the annual rate near 3.3%. Retail sales gained 0.5%, and the second estimate put first-quarter GDP growth at 1.6% annualised. Minutes released on 20 May showed many officials wanting that bias removed and some open to firming should inflation persist. Jerome Powell's term as Chair ended on 15 May, with Kevin Warsh expected to lead the June meeting. Treasury yields rose into mid-month and gave some of it back. The 2-year closed May at 3.98%, up 10bps; the 10-year at 4.45%, up 5bps; the 30-year at 4.99%, up 1bp. All three peaked on 19 May before retracing. Throughout May markets moved to price a June increase to 2.25% in the ECB base rate as the energy shock lifted euro-area inflation risk. The 10-year Bund yield fell 8bps over the month to 3.02%, peaking at 3.22% on 19 May before easing as oil retreated. In Japan, the 10-year government bond yield reached a 29-year high near 2.8% on 18 May on fiscal and inflation concerns, and Prime Minister Takaichi's government announced a fuel-subsidy package. US investment grade spreads tightened 8bps to 73bps and high yield 11bps to 272bps, both reaching multi-decade lows, while primary issuance stayed heavy across the month.
